

Integra Foundation´s Statement of Impartiality

In carrying out its humanitarian and development activities, Integra Foundation is committed to impartiality by providing support to those most at risk, regardless of race, ethnicity, religion, ability, gender, age, sexuality or nationality. It focuses its work on the basis of need, with sensitivity to the dynamics of challenging situations on the ground, and actively supports those who would otherwise be marginalised or excluded, particularly children, the elderly and people with disabilities.

As Integra Foundation has been grounded in the Christian faith from its inception until today, it is our deep conviction and desire to provide our humanitarian assistance indiscriminately to all those in need, without any preference or favour.

Our impartiality is evidenced by the fact that Integra Foundation has signed the Code of Conduct standards with the Red Cross and is also applying for the Core Humanitarian Standards (CHS) certification. Integra Foundation is also a member of the Integral Alliance, whose members adhere to the highest standards in the provision of humanitarian assistance.
